AREA GUIDE

LOCAL AREA INTRODUCTION

Sailing the Balearic Islands gives you a vacation full of warm, sunny days, wonderful sandy beaches, fantastic sailing, dramatic scenery, charming ports and world-class nightlife.

Off the coast of eastern Spain, the Balearic Islands' archipelago is perfect for water sports fans, nature lovers and those seeking to relax on the beach while soaking up the sun.

DREAM YACHT CHARTER

The islands of Mallorca, Menorca, Ibiza and Formentera have a rich history stretching back to the ancient civilizations of Greece and Phoenicia thousands of years ago. The region is a popular yacht charter vacation spot thanks to its premier cruising ground.

Ibiza, the White Isle, is probably the most well-known thanks to its hedonist night club scene frequented by the world's most renowned DJs and celebrity circuit. Yet the western Mediterranean's Balearic Islands offer much more than its famous party atmosphere. There are plenty of quiet spots to get away from it all when sailing around Mallorca.

If you are sailing Mallorca, you will need a sailing license that is recognized by the local port authorities, or you can hire a skipper.

TOP THINGS TO DO IN MALLORCA:

- 1. Dine and relax in Port d'Andratx: Enjoy the old time charm of Port d'Andratx, only a short sail away from our base. Grab drinks and dinner in one of the bars or restaurants along the seafront.
- 2. Stop to swim in Cala Banyalbufar on the west coast of Mallorca: This popular swimming spot isn't exactly a beach, but the water is brilliant blue and is certainly worth a visit whilst you're sailing the Balearic Islands. Dry off and continue on to Sóller, a small, elegant port surrounded by impressive scenery and an old, wooden tram that will take you to the narrow, cobbled streets of the city center.
- 3. Dock beneath the fjord-like cliffs of Porto Cristo: Porto Cristo offers great protection, plenty of berths, beautiful scenery, rich history and you can end the day enjoying dinner at one of the delicious local restaurants.
- 4. Party like a rock star in Ibiza: If you're wondering what to do in Ibiza, you'll find several well-equipped marinas, a wide range of bars, restaurants, boutiques, nightclubs and late-night fun for all ages. Or in the day, you can enjoy the beautiful beaches.
- 5. Bird watching in Cala Mondragó Natural Park: This park is a bird sanctuary and famous for its fine white sandy beaches and the unbelievable crystal-clear water. Take a dip in the waters here too. One thing is guaranteed, you really won't run out of things to do in Mallorca.

SAILING AREA

From our base at Palma Port Calanova, Palma de Mallorca, you can explore nearly 300 beaches, hop between smaller islets or get close to nature on Cabrera. This island is home to Cabrera's Archipelago Maritime-Terrestrial National Park and many species of seabirds - you may even spot dolphins nearby.

There's something for everyone on a Mallorca boat charter. You can also visit Mallorca's mysterious Dragon Caves and underground lake, or enjoy old Spain in the historic Port d'Alcudia.

Climb up to watch the sunset over the bay from a popular viewpoint up high at Es Verda, near Cala d'Hort, Ibiza, or sway to the Balearic beats at Cafe del Mar. Head to Formentera to relax on Playa de Ses Illetes, which has warm weather even in the spring and fall. Menorca offers gorgeous bays with Caribbean-like azure waters to explore, such as Cala Mijana and Cala Galdana.

If you love wine, you can tour the vineyards where grapes have been harvested since Roman times. Keep a look out for the native tipples of Manto Negro and Callet.

WIND SYSTEMS

The sailing conditions in Mallorca include the Levant, which is an easterly wind that blows in the western Mediterranean and gives great sailing conditions. The region's consistent winds are one of the reasons why sailors love Mallorca.

Sailing is more challenging October to April with the risk of stronger winds. Meanwhile the sirocco, a southerly breeze in spring, and the mistral, a north-westerly in autumn, are tempered by the Gulf of Lion and bring heavy seas.
