AREA GUIDE

LOCAL AREA INTRODUCTION

The coastline of southern Brittany in France is a sailor's dream. You will find it hard to plan your itinerary, as there are so many wonderful harbors and ports, superb beaches, scenic islands, quiet anchorages and quaint villages to choose from. Southern Brittany provides the perfect backdrop for an unforgettable vacation along the northwest coast of France.

Our base is in the Marina at La Trinité-sur-Mer in southern Brittany, which provides easy access to the renowned Quiberon Bay. Experienced sailors will be hard pressed to choose between the scenic bays, rivers, ports and islands located within.

The currents are strong and tides vary greatly along Brittany's coast – perfect for skippers with experience of tidal ranges. Or you can hire a local skipper to show you the best of Brittany's coastline.

You do not need a sailing license to sail here, but good sailing experience is recommended and preferred, or you can hire a skipper.

TOP THINGS TO DO IN BRITTANY:

1. Sail to Belle-Île-en-Mer: The island's name means "Beautiful Island in the Sea", which is fitting as it has a fine position in Quiberon Bay on Brittany's southwest coast. The island has four small villages to explore.
2. Morbihan Megalithic Sites: A quiet bay in southern Brittany, the Gulf of Morbihan is connected with the Atlantic Ocean by a narrow channel. Morbihan is filled with megalithic sites, fascinating stone structures which are some of the most ancient found anywhere in the world - it's one of our favorite things to do in Brittany.
3. Sept-Îles (Seven Islands) archipelago: If you are on a longer charter, head around the coast off Perros-Guirec where there are seven peaceful, mostly-uninhabited islands which attract an unusual number of rare birds that otherwise rarely nest in France, including the popular and beautiful puffin. The islands have been made a national reserve to ensure their protection.

- 4. Explore the harbor of Saint Goustan in Auray: Wander along the quay of this scenic port and enjoy the beautiful historic buildings along cobblestone paths, quaint cafes and waterside bars.
- 5. The megaliths of Carnac: One of the top things to do in Brittany is visit these world famous “standing stones”, which are 7,000 years old and one of the most important sites of European prehistory in existence. Their sheer size and numbers make them the largest group of standing stones of this type in the world.

CUSTOMS CLEARANCE

US citizens must have a passport issued within the past 10 years that is valid for a minimum of six months at entry and valid for an additional three months beyond the planned date of departure. Visas are not required for stays of less than 90 days.

Talk to us to make sure you have the correct documents before you travel for your Brittany sailing vacation.

INTERNET

There is free Wi-Fi at our marina and you can hire a 4G modem for your yacht in advance of your charter. Internet access is available via cafes and Wi-Fi hotspots, but you may need to pay. Cell phones can work depending on zones but don't forget the roaming fees!

ENVIRONMENT

- Respect your surroundings and leave only footprints in the sand
- Only use the engine or genset when needed (fill up your tanks for the water maker at the docks when you can)
- Recycle your garbage in the correct containers at the marina
- Respect regulations around marine reserves and private islands where disembarking is not permitted

REGULATIONS

Night sailing is forbidden in the Gulf of Morbihan. For night sailing in other areas, request permission from the base manager before leaving the marina.

SAILING CONDITIONS

SAILING AREA

When sailing along France's Atlantic coastline, there are endless opportunities to sample the local seafood, cider and crepes. Muscadet, a fruity, white French wine that is made in the Loire Valley, pairs perfectly with the region's seafood cuisine.

Some of the region's highlights include Île aux Moines' scenic walks, a favorite destination for those looking to unwind. Alternately, head to Île d'Arz's lovely creeks and coves during your Brittany sailing vacation, which are popular stops for taking a dip.

DREAM YACHT CHARTER

The Morbihan area is home to many prehistoric megalithic structures. The large stones were used as monuments or to construct buildings. Gavrinis, a small, uninhabited island, hosts what may arguably be Brittany's most impressive Neolithic site, built roughly between 4,500 and 3,000 BC. Its pyramid-shaped stone burial chamber features a long, stone passageway with walls are covered with beautiful, ancient carvings and artwork.

WEATHER

The best time to visit Brittany is from April to October, when the weather is warmer.

High season is in July and August. August, the hottest month, averages a daytime temperature of 78°F and an average sea temperature of 66°F, making it the best month for swimming. During the month of June, you can enjoy nearly 11 hours of sunshine on most days.

December is the wettest month with an average of 2.4 inches of rain and January is the coldest month at 46°F.

TEMPERATURE

Climate in La Trinité sur Mer, Brittany:

- Summer high: The July high is around 72°F
- Winter low: The February low is 39°F

WIND SYSTEMS

The sailing conditions in Brittany are oceanic with winds year-round. The wind mainly blows moderately from the southwest. On sunny days, it is generally quiet in the morning with winds reaching force 3-5 in the afternoon due to thermal winds. Sailors will appreciate the agreeable conditions during April, May and September, making it an ideal time for a Brittany sailing vacation.

There are special sailing considerations as Brittany has the fastest tides in Europe. The large variation in the tides creates very strong currents. Quiberon Bay is sheltered from the Atlantic Ocean swells by the Quiberon peninsula, Houat and Hoëdic islands, which makes for easier cruising conditions. The Gulf of Morbihan (Morbihan means "little sea" in Breton) is also sheltered from the Atlantic but has significant tidal ebb and flow.

LOCAL FORECAST

You can find weather forecasts on the MeteoFrance website both before and during your Brittany yacht charter.
