AREA GUIDE

LOCAL AREA INTRODUCTION

The Swedish capital city of Stockholm is spread across 14 islands in the Baltic Sea. Based on a medieval street layout, Stockholm has retained its charm and old-style architecture with an attractive old town.

The Stockholm archipelago holds 30,000 islands, islets and rocks and is the second largest in the world. Sail through peaceful coves or hit the open sea for high waves and an adventurous sailing experience. The islands are home to both new communities and ancient villages bursting with Nordic culture.

TOP THINGS TO DO IN STOCKHOLM:

1. Saltsjöbaden ("the Salt Sea baths"): A relatively small town just 20 minutes drive from Stockholm city. It lies on the shores of Baggensfjärden and is surrounded by forest to the west. During the summer months it springs to life.

2. Holmen Kök & Bar: On a sunny day this is a very popular spot for eating and drinking as it's on the edge of the harbor facing the afternoon and evening sun. A family friendly beach that offers a restaurant on the deck overlooking the beach adjoins the famous bathing baths.
3. Erstaviksbadet: It has both a small and larger sandy beach that is a 20-minute walk from Erstavik train station (Solsiden line). Here you'll also find a rocky shoreline to enjoy sunbathing and swimming.
4. Lake Lundsjön: For those that fancy hiking, a path travels around lake Lundsjön all the way to the golf course close to Saltsjöbaden Centrum.

INTERNET

Cell phones can work depending on zones but don't forget the roaming fees! There is Internet access via cafes and Wi-Fi hotspots, but you may need to pay.

ENVIRONMENT

- Respect your surroundings and leave only footprints in the sand
- Only use the engine or genset when needed (fill up your tanks for the water maker at the docks when you can)
- Recycle your garbage in the correct containers at the marina
- Respect regulations around marine reserves and private islands where disembarking is not permitted

REGULATIONS

Much of the Stockholm Archipelago is a nature reserve so please observe the signs and regulations.

SAILING CONDITIONS

SAILING AREA

Our base at Moranviken Marina in Saltsjöbaden is a great place to start your sailing vacation. Saltsjöbaden is a fantastic gateway to the archipelago. After casting off you'll soon enter Ingaröfjärden and the first islands of the inner archipelago.

You may sail and explore the waters of Stockholm Archipelago extending to Arholma in the north. Turning south you may visit St Anna's Archipelago and as far as the town of Gryt. Sailing to the east, through the last islands of the archipelago, you may enter the open water of the Baltic Sea. Please note that easterly limitations apply.

You may also sail inland to the west of Stockholm after passing through the locks in the city where you can visit the large Lake of Mälaren.

WEATHER

For warm weather and sunshine, the best time to visit Stockholm is between May and September.

TEMPERATURE

In spring, particularly in May, there is a combination of mild and colder weather days. Summer, from June to August, is a mild season with highs around 68/73 °F and very long days. This season is generally pleasant but can see rain. June is a bit cooler than July, but it has the longest days of the year.

From around May 15 to July 29, the white nights occur, when it is not completely dark even at midnight. However, sometimes at night it can be very cool, or even cold, since the temperature can drop below 50 °F. It's always good to bring some warm clothes, like a jacket or sweater for the evening.

The sea temperatures around Stockholm are generally cool, reaching 59 °F in July and 61 °F in August.

WIND SYSTEMS

The wind is most often from the south spring through to fall and is generally quite calm. In fall, the average wind moves to the west and increases in strength.
