AREA GUIDE

LOCAL AREA INTRODUCTION

For the adventurous sailor in search of an unforgettable vacation, Thailand is among the finest, most interesting and beautiful places to sail in the world. Where else can you sail among spectacular limestone peaks that jut up above the waters, such as you can in Phang Nga Bay? The rock formations are just the start of the wonders you can find in Thailand.

Many of the islands in this region are ringed with dazzling coral reefs so rich in marine life that you'll be tempted to spend all of your time in the water.

Longer charters are well-suited for a visit to the Similan Islands, located about 54nm northwest of Phuket. Just as towering limestone monoliths are a distinguishing geographical feature of southern Thailand, these nine granite islands are distinctive because they are covered by dense tropical jungle.

To sail in Thailand you will need a sailing license that is recognized by the local port authorities, or you can hire a skipper.

TOP THINGS TO DO IN THAILAND:

1. Lunch at a floating fishing village: The hundreds of huts, restaurants and houses where the Koh Panyi villagers live are built on stilts over the surrounding sea. It's a fascinating place to visit, where you can enjoy a freshly-caught fish lunch, shop and visit with the friendly locals.
2. Visit James Bond Island: Excellent anchorages are to be found at the prestigious Phang Nga Bay, where you will also find the famed James Bond Island. Secret lagoons and crystal clear waters highlight the unspoiled beauty of this magical bay recognizable for the sheer limestone karsts that jut straight up from the water.
3. Sail to the Similan Island: The magnificent Similans are a genuine snorkeling paradise. These nine islands will captivate you immediately with huge boulders lining the shores on several of the islands, and the pristine white sand beaches are often deserted. The most interesting sights, however, are to be found beneath the waves where some of the most spectacular coral in the world can be seen.
4. Hong Lagoon: Koh Hong, off the coast of Krabi is part of the Than Bok Khorani National Park and features one of the more recognizable lagoons in Thailand. Visit early to enjoy the stunning beach and walking trail before the tour visitors arrive.
5. Explore Koh Phi Phi Don: Koh Phi Phi Don is a popular tourist attraction and while it may not be the place to visit for solitude, it retains an appeal to visitors looking for a lively scene. Enjoy its beachfront restaurants, bars and shops at Tonsai Bay, blending in with the stunning scenery.

CUSTOMS CLEARANCE

Clearance can take five hours during working hours, so be sure to allow time in your itinerary.

INTERNET

Internet is available at the marina, and aboard our cabin charters. There is also internet access via cafes and Wi-Fi hotspots, but you may need to pay. Cell phones can work depending on zones but don't forget the roaming fees while sailing Thailand's islands!

ENVIRONMENT

- Respect your surroundings and leave only footprints in the sand
- Only use the engine or genset when needed (fill up your tanks for the water maker at the docks when you can)
- Recycle your garbage in the correct containers at the marina
- Respect regulations around marine reserves and private islands where disembarking is not permitted

REGULATIONS

Night sailing is prohibited in Thailand and Malaysia waters. Plan your sailing trip to reach your night anchorage by 4pm and ensure you don't sail when visibility is poor.

Navigation channels are marked as in Europe, red on the port side and green on starboard when entering harbors. In Thailand, mooring buoys are rarely checked or maintained. If you use them, it is your responsibility.

In some areas you cannot anchor and must use a government mooring buoy. In this case please dive and inspect the buoy and the rope. These areas include: Koh Racha Yai, Koh Racha Noi, Koh Mai Thon, Koh Kai Nai, Koh Kai Nok, Maya Bay (Koh Phiphi Le).

Please be aware that Thai laws change frequently and without notice. The base team will update you during your briefing.

Please note, to show respect, never touch a local's head or point at a local with your foot when seated.

SAILING CONDITIONS

SAILING AREA

Among the popular itinerary stops during any Phuket yacht charter is Koh Khai Nai, better known as James Bond Island, where “The Man With the Golden Gun” was filmed. Nearby Koh Panyi is a floating village where hundreds of fishermen live. Buy local souvenirs and seafood, then prepare a locally-caught fish dinner on board.

Sailing approximately 28nm southeast of Phuket brings you to the Phi Phi Islands, one of southern Thailand’s favorite tourist destinations. You’ll find stunning anchorages suitable for overnight stays and charming villages that are perfect for lunchtime stops.

Mu Koh Similan National Park protects the region’s natural resources and offers some of the finest diving locations in the world. The same volcanic eruptions that created such dramatic island landscapes eons ago also created equally dramatic underwater seascapes, which are just waiting to be discovered. The national park fees in Thailand range from 300 to 500 baht and you must buy a permit in advance.

WEATHER

The best time for a Thailand sailing charter is from mid-October to mid-April, when the rainy season is finished and all national parks are open. The monsoon season is May through early October, with hot, humid weather and heavy rains.

March is the hottest month in Phuket with an average temperature of 83°F and the coldest is January at 81°F. The most sunshine hours are in April with nine hours of sun each day.

TEMPERATURE

Climate in Phuket:

- Summer high: The March high is around 93°F
- Winter low: The January low is 72°F

WIND SYSTEMS

Winds during the high season, between October and mid-April, are typically from the southwest. From May to October, the tropical monsoon season begins with a northeast wind. Knowledge of tide systems is required.
